George McCloskey, PhD, is a Professor and Director of School Psychology Research in the School for Professional and Applied Psychology at PCOM and holds Diplomate status with the American Academy of Pediatric Neuropsychology. Based on more than 25 years of research and experience working with children, adolescents and adults exhibiting executive control difficulties, Dr. McCloskey has developed a comprehensive model of executive control that can be used to assess executive strengths and difficulties and guide intervention efforts. He frequently presents both internationally and nationally. He consults with a number of school districts and private schools nationwide and overseas on issues related to assessment and intervention for improving students' executive control in the classroom and at home. Dr. McCloskey is the lead author of the books Assessment and Intervention for Executive Function Difficulties and Essentials of Executive Functions Assessment and his most recent writing on interventions for executive function and executive skills difficulties appears in Chapter 10 of the book Essentials of Planning, Selecting, and Tailoring Interventions for Unique Learners. He is co-author with his wife, Laurie McCloskey, of the children's educational book The Day Frankie Left His Frontal Lobes at Home. He also is the author of the McCloskey Executive Functions Scales (MEFS) from Schoolhouse Press. See www.georgemccloskeyphd.com

Intervention for Child and Adolescent Executive Control Difficulties

15 Hour In-Person & Live-Online Course

Monday - Friday: 9:00a.m.-12:30p.m. EDT/30-Min Break Daily at 10:30a.m.

In this course George McCloskey--widely admired for the clarity, comprehensiveness, and warmth of his teaching style--will help participants gain a deeper understanding of executive control and of the ways executive control deficits impact the behavior and academic performance of children and adolescents.

Participants will gain state-of-the-art knowledge of the most effective ways to help children and adolescents improve their use of executive functions and executive skills. Ways to discuss executive control with children, parents and school staff will be offered as well as ways to help motivate children and adolescents to ensure their participation in efforts to help them. Special emphasis will be placed on how to orient students to intervention efforts and help them move from being externally controlled to internally self-regulated through the use of bridging strategies. Case study examples of assessment and intervention efforts and outcomes with children and adolescents will be discussed throughout the presentation.

Participants will leave this workshop energized and with a renewed sense of purpose, a greater knowledge of how to improve executive functions and executive skills, and a greater realization of how they can have a positive effect on the children, parents and professionals with whom they work.
